

ABSTRACT

Mail generating means for generating character mail, transmission time setting means for setting transmission 5 execution time of the generated character mail, and mail transmitting means for transmitting the character mail at the set time are comprised, and character mail generation time and character mail transmission execution time are separable, and character mail transmission can be executed 10 at desired time.

10023126-121801